ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE

Evidences multiply on every hand that we have here in the northwest a great mineral re-gion which only awarts development to make an immense community to public wealth and

We now have the Colville region particularly in mind. There is growing evidence that it is seen to become a great ore-producing region, righting both after and gold Messra. I I Riley and A E. Benoist, who have just passed through Portland on their way to San Francisco to Furchase a mill for trushing gold rock at their mine near Kettle Palis give os an account of ore prospects there that are highly accounting. ore prospects there that give that account of ore prospects there that are ingitly encouraging. They have no mines to sell, but are actually get-ting out ore enough from letiges as yet scatcely opened to purchase machinery and go on with the development of their mines.

opened to purchase machiner; and go on with the development of their mines. They have just wagened from their mines to Spokane Falls forty bone of silvar rock which they are sending to the reduction works at Omaha. This rock gives not less than five hun-dred concess of silver to the ton. Of course they have selected the richest rock they could find, so as to get the best returns for transporting it so far. In taking out 100 tons of rock they find about twenty-five lone of this high grade. The about wenty-fire tons pri this high grade. The remainder, which will give from fifty ounce up to 500 per ton, is held to await the introduction by. Out of the proceeds of the shipment to by. Out of the proceeds of the shipment to Cumba they expect to realize enough to go ou with development of their mines. As pet they have only sunk shafts, no one of which is more than forty feet deep Both gentlemen are expert miners, and they say they are fully con vinced that the Colvide region in a few years will develop mines which, in number and rich need, will suffice to make a district equal to any ses, will suffice to make a district equal to any in Montana or Colorado

Here is offered another group of facts which Portland cannot afford to ignore, it is a further argument for the erection of reduction works, discovers a source of supply for ore a theelf is likely to be sufficient to kee works of moderate capacity in steady operation. Indeed Messrs. Riley and Renoist alone are taking out in average of twenty tone of ore per day. Again, if ores were reduced here Portland again, it ores were reduced here Portland would soon become a center for supply of mining machinery, and those who want quark mills would not be abliged to go to San Francisco to get them, as these folled miners are now doing. Industry and trade would be fortuned in home and such most industrial. now doing Industry and trade would be tered at home, and each great industry would be the true and true a quickly open the way for others. A NEW HISTORY OF OREGON

Rav H S. Lyman, of Forest Grove, has suband h S. Lyman, of Forest Grove, has sub-mitted to a few friends a pian for a new history of Oregon It is a subject that has often been treated, but undoubtedly there is room for a history upon a new and more comprehensive reatment of the subject than has yet appeared. What we mean is that the histories of Oregon, no far submitted to the public, are in large degree negation. degree personal partial or merely episodical or, like the two great soluties in Bancroft's elaborate series, not close enough in mad; important particulars to the actual history of the Oregonics results. important particulars to the actual history of this Oregonian perpio. There is a mean be-liwen these artismes in the treatment of the instory which has not yot been touched and we think Mr. I junct has the pushfruit us to landle it. He is a fire actual are nearly with the habits of Injustry possesses good judgment and literary taste and having been an observer of the growth of trezon from his infinct is of the growth of Oregon from his infancy of the growth of tregon from his infancy is able to follow the threads of results back to their beginnings separating actual and permanent things from temporary and inconsequential events. In every superficial view of the history of a popularity is remarkly that hai events. In every superficial view of the history of a people much is presented that appears on closer examination to be merely adventitious and to chumbate this mass of material from the real germs of history—to blow the chaff from the wheat—required a sort and activation of the people of th blow the chaff from the wheat—required a sort of discrimination or tact not easily described in words. In Mr 1-man's plan, part first gives a connected account of the discovery settlement and pointed history of Oregon. It is intended to treat the subject popularity and from the standpoint of liberal ideas, eschewing personal and sectarian protifications and local prejudices to dead with causes of events and to show how Oregon was reserved to the people who could not be. Part ed to the people who could use it. Pari cond gives some twelve or twenty pen narratives of sattlers, their adventures, hard-ships and labors in coming here and in making houses. These are treated in a manner to pre-serve the original flavor of typical characters. here are appendices that give the names, birth places, time of coming to Oregon and occupa-lions of first settlers the names and localities of Indian tribes and cliefs and Indian words the names of ships that entered the Culumba river in early times the origin of the names of riv-ers, mognitains barbors and localities the various features of the same lists of all am-mals, plants and minerals native to treaton atmals, plants and minerals native to Oregon, etc., etc. It is Mr. I gman's desire to interest the Pioneer Somety of Oregon in his plant. Wattrust he will be able to do so, since we think his rock will be both creditable to him and useful to the state

Wr (rewford assumes that "it is quite clear that a "may feet them."

Mr (rewired assumes that "it is quite clear that almost every one who has written on school a fairs ever an assumed name, in The (bag only), for the last eight years is a been unfriendly in public schools." It is not clear what connection this statement has with the present case, but it is quite less that it is a mistake. It is true that most of the letters printed is this and other journils on questions of school management are on load, but they are not unfriendly. We criticise the police management very often, but is this an evidence that we are opposed to public order. We criticise the management of the dredger, but is this proof that we are op public order. We criticise the management of the dredger, but is this proof that we are op posed to rer improvement? We criticise the administration at Washington, but is this au administration at Washington, but is this an indication of lostlilly to our national government? Mr. Crawford is shallow, very shallow The Chesconian itself has been a critic, perhaps most severe of all, of the public schools, but it is a stanned supporter of popular, free advantion. There are, indeed, protest against the present methods of school management, many of them, but here are none against the schools themselves.

BI MIF HITTER THAN HILL HE Many Americana talk as if they supposed the English chil servit e as the best in the world. It is often spoken of as a model thing, beautiful in its faultlessness. Somehow it is maximed that there are no peculations and no seaudals in the English service, and bat the Righth official is a person of superior horsety and honor, against whom no suspicion coulc possibly be harbored. But since human nature is much the same among all men, one must suppose that English honesty is not abscitute per fection. The truth seems to be that because frauds are not exposed. It is assumed that none are perpetuated A London correspondent of the New York Titles shows the danner in which ous English cousins manage helf scandals and to get a credit for nonesty they do not deserve. He says "There is a sort of Freemasonry among all Englishmen of the front bench rank which renders it in numbert upon such new head of a department o cover up and defend all that his predecessor has done, and it is one of the worst features of King sh public life, as witness the admirally scandal which forced its way out by steer force of the immensity of the sun involved, but was mattiff smothered agun pewer to be heard of more. Witness also the war office, where many charges of Irand, there and swindling, wholesale and retail, are made, and the grout is offered only to be blandly waived asule by Mr Smith, who would not be so lacking in the qualities which a man just had lately presided. It is the secret at once of Many Americana talk as if they supposed the much the same among all men, one must sup pose that English honesty is not absclute per fection. The New York Times admits that i'the posi-tive disgust of many thousands of active demo-crats with the policy of the president is much greater than is generally seen, because it is oft-en repressed, partly in the hope that the presi-dent may change and partly because, little as can be expected from him, nothing can be got from any other source in the way of patronage." It adds "Probably this feeling of disappoint-ment and resentment makes itself felt at Wash-ington more plandy than anywhere else, but it exists all over the Union, and is strongest in the democratic states of the west and center."

Jo McDonald, the Indiana statesman, rom forces the demand of the democrate for the offices by suring that "the first step in civ.] serwice reform should be a clean aweep." The music is going to be loud enough for hir theveland to hear it. He is fishing now, he will have

DEMOCRATIC AND MUGWUMP HEAN-NESS,

Ohio State Journal.

The attempt of the leading democrats and mugwumps to make party capital out of the death of deat or trant is deserving at the severest proparion By the plainest inference and sometimes in By the plainest inference and sometimes in direct terms, the c.am is set up that the political centiments of Jen. Grant underwent a railizal change during the last three or four months of his life, that he expressed penitance, for the mistakes he made in his treatment of the exconfederates while president, and besought has inte snemnes to forzive him and to forzive the inte enemies to forgive him and to forgive the government and people on whose behalf he acted.

All such assumptions are false and gratations, wicked and ruwarranted. During his ast suckness (set Grant frequently expressed the hope that the people of the North and South will become heast cet. Grant Jiequently expressed the hope had the people of the North and South will become reconciled and thoroughly united—reconciled and united on the basis of the constitution and Cuion, in the defense and man tenance of which in glory was won. To put any other construction upon his conversation with tren Hechner, or with any one else, is to slander the dead.

George William outle, the mouth nece of the mugwamps, in the Issue of Hanper's Weel by of August 5, says of Gen. Grant that "the forty and generous tone of all his last expressions in regard to the relations of the states which were notally oponeed in the civil war, and the pittriotic and magnanianus spurit shown upon the occasion of its death by his old antagonists in the field, logether with the profound conviction among old resubtants and Union men that the common interests of all the states and of all the citizens of every color require a policy in harmony with the plasmed the trapublican party to doubt the patricilism and justice and expediency of attempting to carry the election by raising the cries of twenty years ago."

Translated into plain language, what these all of that menn? In the "reformed" opinion of Mr Curits it evidently means.

and unpatriotic, in the opinion of lift (nrite, for the republicand in mest upon that issue because it is townly years of de.

He is a defance of one Grant who intimates that he weakened in principle as his physical lowers decayed. His expressions regarding political matters during the last days of his life were in perfect consonance with his expressions during the last twenty years. He was always the friend of union and peace. When he said at Appointation, "Grant Lee, tell your nites of keep their horses, they will need them to out in the spring crops," he was preaching the ry spel of union and peace, and that thits speec; was approved and applauded by the whole rough it can party—applander alike by soldiers and crylians. When nominated by the republicans are the presidency three years later he said. "Lift us have peace." That, too, was improved by the republicans of the presidency three years later he said after the presidency three years later he said after the presidency three years later he said after the presidency three of the presidency three than the work during his two terms. If he failed in any respect it fault was not his He did all that hay in he power, but he could not induce many of the car Confederates and their copportend uline in the North to recognize the equality of all most before the his work for life and the accessary to the full rest ration of union and peace.
